

At the University of Göttingen -Public Law Foundation-, Department für Agrarökonomie und Rurale Entwicklung, there is a position as

Postdoctoral Researcher (all genders welcome) in Agricultural and/or Environmental Economics to be filled. Starting date is as soon as possible. The position is limited to 3 years.
Entgeltgruppe 13 TV-L/100%

The group conducts research on digital and sustainable food systems, adaptation to climate change, and agricultural resource management. Important research topics include drivers, behavioral barriers and incentives for sustainable land use choices under risk resilience, and eco-efficiency analyses at the field, farm and landscape scale. We work with experimental, survey and observational (panel) data at the farm and field level, spatial land use data. For more information about the group please visit: <https://www.uni-goettingen.de/de/658380.html>

Your tasks

The researchers are expected to plan and conduct research related to the group's core research topics. The tasks include:

- Development and design of innovative research ideas
- Contribution to third party-funding proposals of the group
- Presentation and publication of research results
- Teaching Bachelor modules in "Ecosystem Management" (German) and/or Master modules (English)
- Guidance of Bachelor/Master students, and doctoral researchers

Your profile

- A university degree (Master's/Diploma) and a PhD (completed or about to be completed) in the field of agricultural economics or a related field is required
- Strong analytical skills and experience with quantitative research methods
- Previous experience with empirical research and/or survey-based data collection
- Proven interest in topics related to the group's research
- Willingness to engage in interdisciplinary collaboration with other researchers
- Willingness to work on-site
- German language skills for supervising students and teaching
- Excellent command of the English language

We offer

- A stimulating research environment
- Opportunities to develop own research ideas and participate in collaborative projects
- Excellent networks of national and international research partners
- Support in personal career development

The position is based in Göttingen (Germany) but requires traveling and short research stays abroad.

Your complete application package should include: motivation letter, CV including publication list, one-page research statement, university certificates and transcripts, a writing sample (recent own paper or summary of PhD thesis), names and contact details of two academic reference persons.

The University of Göttingen is an equal opportunities employer and places particular emphasis on fostering career opportunities for women. Qualified women are therefore strongly encouraged to apply in fields in which they are underrepresented. The university has committed itself to being a family-friendly institution and supports their employees in balancing work and family life. The University is particularly committed to the professional participation of severely disabled employees and therefore welcomes applications from severely disabled people. In the case of equal qualifications, applications from people with severe disabilities will be given preference. A disability or equality is to be included in the application in order to protect the interests of the applicant.

Please upload your application in one pdf file including the usual documents until 1/2/2025 on the application portal of the university using this link:

<http://obp.uni-goettingen.de/de-de/OBF/Index/74720>. For more information get in touch with Martina Reichmann directly via E-Mail: mreichm2@gwdg.de, Tel. 0049 551 39 24851 .

Please note:

With submission of your application, you accept the processing of your applicant data in terms of data-protection law. Further information on the legal basis and data usage is provided in the Information General Data Protection Regulation \(GDPR\)

